

Anne Arundel County's Inventory of Historic Properties

The Anne Arundel County Inventory of Historic Properties (AAIHP)

Following are the properties, buildings, structures, and districts found on the County Inventory of Historic Properties listed by Tax Account number in ascending order. Most of the list is comprised of individually important buildings and sites. The list also includes clusters or concentrations of multiple related historic resources that comprise a historic district, area, or neighborhood. Within these districts, there are both “contributing” and non-contributing” resources. At this time, CRD staff is working on district specific maps that identify those buildings in a district that are considered contributing structures. Note that archaeological sites are not listed as their locations and details are protected by the State Historic Preservation Office. Cemeteries have also not yet been incorporated in this list as field verification of current paper files held in the AA County office is in progress. To obtain additional information about the historic resources on the County Inventory, contact our office or visit the Information Counter for Maps, Publications and Services at the Heritage Office Complex.
