A public meeting has been scheduled from 6:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, October 7, 2025 via Zoom to discuss constructing a well and a 700-square-foot well house at 1221 Jones Station Road, Arnold, to meet future water needs of residents. The well will be capable of producing two million gallons of water per day.

There will be noise from tree clearing, drilling and construction equipment, as well as temporary lane closures with flaggers to direct motorists through the area during equipment deliveries. Throughout construction there will also be warning signs posted to slow down at the sharp bend on Jones Station Road near Mt. Calvary United Methodist Church.

Construction is tentatively scheduled to begin in spring 2026 and be completed in winter 2027. The work will be done 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.
