

Effective Conflict Resolution and Communication Strategies

Presented by AACRC

June 1st, 2024

Presenter: Ann Harrell

Introduction

1

Welcome and introductions

2

Overview of the session's objectives

3

Importance of conflict resolution and effective communication in community living

Overview of The Maryland Condominium Act.

Legal framework that governs the creation, management, and operation of condominium associations within the state of Maryland

Protect the rights of condominium owners

Ensure proper management of condominium communities

Key Provisions Related to Condominium Governance and Dispute Resolution

```
graph TD; A[Governance Structure] --- B[Bylaws and Rules]; B --- C[Dispute Resolution];
```

Governance Structure

Bylaws and Rules

Dispute Resolution

Common Sources of Conflict in Association Communities

FINANCIAL DISPUTES (E.G., FEES, ASSESSMENTS)

RULE
ENFORCEMENT AND COMPLIANCE ISSUES

COMMON PROPERTY AND PERSONAL SPACE
ISSUES

ONLINE AND SOCIAL MEDIA FORUMS

Navigating Conflict Within Communities

Tips and Tools for Resolution

What is Conflict?

Conflict occurs when there is a perception that one or more of our values, needs or aspects of our identity are being challenged, threatened or undermined by another entity.

Conflict is inevitable

Associated with negativity. Could also be positive

Conflict Resolution Strategies

Step-by-step conflict resolution process

Seek Third Party Assistance (mediation or arbitration)

When and how to seek legal advice

Benefits of Conflict Resolution

Conflict is inevitable, it's how its managed that determines the impact

Can be create opportunities for change, growth, innovation and transformation

Step by Step Conflict Resolution

Seeking Third Party Assistance

- Parties are not able to come to common ground
- Communication Breakdown
- Emotions are too high
- Efforts for resolution are met with resistance
- Issue is ongoing

Mediation

- Call Anne Arundel Conflict Resolution Center (AACRC)
- Mediation is Voluntary, Confidential, Non-Judgmental
- Parties control outcome
- At AACRC no cost
- Professionally trained neutrals
- Conflict resolution experts
- Nothing to lose

Arbitration

- More formal
- Parties present evidence and documents for review and consideration
- Parties provide testimony for their interest
- Arbitrator review facts of cases
- Parties have no control of outcome
- Arbitrator decides how to resolve the dispute
- Binding

ARBITRATION HEARING

COURT OF _____ COUNTY _____
Number _____

QUALIFIED

NOW, THIS

appears to the court as follows.

The parties hereto seek this order in conjunction with a final action pending in this Court at the above number.

) hereinafter referred to as "Participant"

participated in the

Facilitated Community Conversations/Meetings

- Neutrality
- Improved Communication
- Efficiency
- Reduce Stress for Community Members and Board Members
- Builds Trust and Cohesion
- Professionally, guided problem solving

When to Seek Legal Advice?

- Review of Governing Documents
- Dispute Escalation
- Legal Compliance and Changes
- Discrimination Claims
- Liens and Foreclosures
- Significant Financial Decisions

How to Seek Legal Advice

1

Find a specialized lawyer

2

Prepare Documentation

3

Initial Consultation

4

Discuss Fees and Cost

5

Follow Legal Advice

Tips and Tools

For Ongoing Conflict Management

Tools and Resources for Ongoing Management

- Communication tools (e.g., newsletters, community boards, digital platforms)
- Training and resources for board members and residents
- Develop and Enforce Clear Rules
- Establish Conflict Resolution Mechanisms

Community Conflict: Service Evaluation Survey

Q&A

Contact us:
aacrc@aacrc.info

Phone: 410-266-9033

Website: www.aacrc.info